I am a Junior Full-Stack Developer, specialising in Ruby on Rails, HTML/CSS, JavaScript, jQuery, SQL. As part of my education at LeWagon coding bootcamp I developed profound understanding of how to design, code and ship to production responsive web applications using Ruby on Rails. I learned the foundations of software engineering and database architecture, practised Github collaborations and gained valuable technical skills. I am a hard worker with growing passion towards new technologies and a constant desire to learn and develop professionally.

SKILLS
